

SPILLS OUT HIS GAS FROM THE TRAIN

BOY ORATOR SPOUTING IN NEW YORK.

Trip Through the Empire State Is Resumed—Lunches Eaten at the Home of Senator Hill—And Afterwards Spoke to a Large Audience on the Square.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 26.—William J. Bryan began his west-bound trip through New York state Tuesday evening under favorable auspices. He received an enthusiastic reception from a small crowd at the depot when he arrived in the afternoon; he was dined by Senator David B. Hill at Wolfert's Roost, and for half an hour in the evening he spoke to a crowd which filled and overflowed the city hall square. His speech was generously and frequently applauded, and at times his words raised cheers that were expressions of true enthusiasm.

At 8:15 the train moved out toward Utica, where the party had decided to spend the night instead of at Syracuse. Those who have traveled with the candidate since his nomination say that no demonstration in the campaign has excelled this at Albany in intensity, and only those at Chicago and Pittsburg in point of numbers.

One of the most interesting episodes of the New York tour was crowded into a brief half hour at Kingston. Not less than 3,000 people were packed upon the green, many of them workingmen. Mr. Bryan spoke to them from the steps of the hall, where he stood under festooned flags.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 26.—William J. Bryan arrived in this city at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night and was met at the depot by an enthusiastic crowd of 5,000 persons. A speech was delivered from the porch of Baggs' hotel, and Mr. Bryan spoke for twenty minutes. The trip from Albany to this city was a continuous ovation, and every depot platform, whether the train stopped or not, was thronged.

At Schenectady, where the large works of the General Electric company and the Schenectady Engine company are located, a huge crowd was gathered. Mr. Bryan, in the few minutes allowed him, told the voters in front of him that he wanted each of them to make a free-silver speech by voting a free-silver ballot in November.

At 9:22 o'clock the train stopped at Amsterdam. Over 2,000 people were waiting for Bryan, and red fire was burned, and the crowd cheered wildly. Mr. Bryan said but a few words in Amsterdam, for the train moved on.

Fonda was reached at 9:42. The reception there was one of the warmest which Bryan has received in the state, and his speech, addressed to working people, was received with every manifestation of appreciation.

From Fonda to Utica was a continuous ovation to the free-silver man. Red fire burned for him on the depot platforms where the train did not stop, and at every crossing men were gathered to cheer the speeding Bryan. At Palatine bridge a large crowd from Canajoharie was waiting for the train, which arrived there at 10 o'clock. At Fort Plain Mr. Bryan had only time to speak a few words, and at St. Johnsville, where he arrived at 10:22 o'clock, he said nothing, but shook hands.

A tremendous crowd awaited him at Little Falls, a large manufacturing city, and at Herkimer, the home of Warner Miller, half a dozen big bonfires and scores of red lights illuminated the scene.

Just before Utica was reached, at 11:30 o'clock, the committee took Mr. and Mrs. Bryan in hand, and when the train stopped a rush was made from the rear end of the train to escape the crowd. The stand was erected in front of the Baggs hotel, but it collapsed before Mr. Bryan arrived, and he spoke from the hotel porch. At least 5,000 persons, with a band, red fire bombs, Roman candles and illuminated mottoes, cheered the Nebraska man, who gave the Utica people a twenty-minute talk. The crowd was nearly as large as that which heard Mr. Bryan at Albany, and included several campaign clubs from Watertown, Herkimer and other places.

THREE SEEK TO UNITE.

Conventions in Michigan to Help Forward Free Silver.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 26.—The democratic state convention was called to order in Armory hall at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Chairman Baker of the state central committee, who called on the Rev. T. W. MacLean of Trinity church for prayer, the audience all standing while it was delivered. Charles S. Hampton of Petoskey was called on to act as temporary chairman and G. Walter Meade of Detroit as temporary secretary.

A committee of five to confer with like committees from the other conventions to secure an honorable union of all parties on a ticket of free silver was appointed, consisting of D. J. Campau of Detroit, T. E. Tarsney of Detroit, L. N. Burke of Kalamazoo, A. A. Ellis of Ionia and James F. Maloney of Cheboygan.

At 4 p. m., when the convention re-assembled, the committee on credentials reported seventy-five counties represented. Thomas E. Barkworth of Jackson was selected as permanent chairman, and W. A. Bahlke of Gratiot county as permanent secretary. The committee on resolutions reported in favor of approving the Chicago platform, declared the issuance of bonds during times of peace as a violation of the fundamental principles of government, denounced the syndicate of bankers recently organized to supply gold to the treasury until after election, as a conspiracy to influence the votes of the people, regretted to find the republican managers invading manufacturing and the railroads to influence the votes of their employees, denounced the republican administration and the present system of levying taxes, and commended the independent republican press of the state for the position it has taken in this campaign.

The populist convention reached a temporary organization by the appointment of Robbins B. Taylor of Bay as chairman and W. H. Clute of Bay as secretary, and after the appointment of the usual committees, together with a committee on conference, took a recess. The convention came to order again promptly at 3 o'clock. A motion to appoint John W. Ewing as chairman of the convention raised a discussion. As a compromise candidate E. J. Jeffries of Detroit was mentioned. The vote resulted: Ewing, 202; Greece, 28; Jeffries, 13. Ewing was declared the unanimous choice. The convention then adjourned to 8 o'clock.

The state silver convention was formally called to order by Charles R. Sligh of Grand Rapids, chairman of the state central committee. Mr. Sligh introduced as temporary chairman Albert W. Williams of Ionia. James M. McBride of Owosso was selected as temporary secretary. After the selection of a conference committee, the convention took a recess until 4 o'clock, when Hopkins of Owosso and S. E. Parkell of Owosso were appointed permanent chairman and secretary, respectively.

The three conventions are all in favor of uniting on one ticket.

Shively Argues for Silver.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 26.—B. F. Shively, democratic candidate for governor, opened the campaign last night. He spoke for nearly two hours to an audience of 2,000. Mr. Shively's contention was that closing of the mints in 1873 put every factory and farm against a falling market, and was responsible for the present depression in the country. The true object lesson of the Mexican dollar was that the gold dollar had risen nearly 100 per cent. The Mexican dollar had not fallen in value in Mexico in relation to property and it had not fallen as compared with American products. The Mexican dollar was an honest dollar, and that dollar was a dishonest dollar which called for twice as much property from a debtor as he promised to pay.

Bryan and Watson in Oregon.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 26.—The democratic and populist state central committees, in joint session Tuesday, agreed upon a plan of fusion. The democrats surrender entirely, and the ticket in this state will be Bryan and Watson.

KNIGHTS TRANSACT BUSINESS.

Supreme Lodge of Pythians Discusses Matters of Interest to the Order.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 26.—Nearly every supreme representative to the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias was in his place when Supreme Chancellor Richie called the lodge to order at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The lodge immediately went into secret session and, after being duly organized, conferred the supreme lodge rank on forty-eight new candidates. The reports of the officers were referred to committees. The lodge then adjourned to meet this morning. The parade yesterday afternoon was pronounced by all those who participated the finest ever given at a biennial encampment. It is practically settled that Philip T. Colgrove of Hastings, Mich., the present vice chancellor of the order, will be elected supreme chancellor on Thursday. Philadelphia and Indianapolis are applicants for the honor of entertaining the next biennial convention of the knights and the contest is practically between these two cities.

VENCEDOR IS BEATEN.

Light Wind Favors Canada in the International Yacht Race.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 26.—Canada won the first heat in the international races here Tuesday finishing at 4:19:08. Vencedor was then two miles astern, crossing the line at 4:37:07. The wind was about eight miles an hour and blowing from the east at the finish. Canada carried mainsail, topsail, jib and staysail. Still winds are predicted for today, and if they arrive on schedule time the Yankee feels perfectly able to win out. Canada won by 17:59 actual time, 22:44 corrected time.

ONTONAGON, MICH., LAID LOW BY FIRE

THE WHOLE TOWN HAS BEEN BURNED OVER.

Large Part of the Population Homeless—Relief Train Sent to the Scene—Loss Is Very Heavy—Other Towns Threatened by Forest Fires—Smoke Is Thick.

Green Bay, Wis., Aug. 26.—The little town of Ontonagon, Mich., has been practically swept from the face of the earth by forest fires. At dusk Tuesday night the whole business portion of the city was in ashes and the larger portion of the population homeless. Late in the afternoon a telegram was received by Superintendent Minturn, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, asking that a train be sent there immediately to take the people away, as the entire city was ablaze, and there would be no place of safety for them in a short time. The regular train north, which leaves Pori, twenty-six miles south of Ontonagon, was instructed to run ahead of time and to bring those fleeing from the place to Rockland, a small town eleven miles south of Ontonagon. At that time the city was entirely enveloped in flames, which were being fanned into irresistible fierceness by a heavy south wind. The depot of the St. Paul road was on fire, and the operator who sent the message stated that it was necessary for him to leave his office and with the other fleeing residents seek a place of shelter.

Ontonagon has about 5,000 inhabitants and the chief industry is in lumber. The Diamond Match company conducted the chief industry of the place and its loss is a very heavy one. Its extensive plant was the most modern and costly. It included two saw-mills, with a capacity each of 175,000 feet a day and worth at least $100,000 each. A planing-mill with six machines, a large machine shop, box factory, two shingle mills with a capacity of 60,000 a day each, dry kilns and an electric light plant which had just been put in, in connection with the new electric light plant of the city. The company had besides a large amount of lumber and stock, some 65,000,000 feet of logs on hand, and everything was destroyed.

A message received from Rockland at 12 o'clock said the entire city of Ontonagon was in ashes, and an appeal is made for help and for tents for 1,500 people. Many of the homeless ones are housed at Rockland for the night. A $1,500,000. No lives were lost at last reports.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 26.—Officials of the St. Paul road received a telegram Tuesday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock announcing that the whole town of Ontonagon, Mich., was burning up. The dispatch was from the company's telegraph operator at that point. He said the company's depot was burning and that the operator had to leave.

Ontonagon is 347 miles from Milwaukee. It is a delightful and popular summer resort. It has catholic, episcopal, methodist and presbyterian churches, a graded public school, a handsome court house, a new opera house with a seating capacity of 500, a bank and two weekly newspapers, the Ontonagon Miner and the Ontonagon Herald. There are two large saw-mills employing about 800 men, a box factory employing over 100 men, planing mills, etc.

The census of 1890 gave Ontonagon a population of 1,250. Ontonagon county has a population of 3,706.

It is only a few years since Ontonagon got a railroad. It is now the terminus of a seventy-five mile branch which leaves the main line of the St. Paul road (Milwaukee & Northern division) at Channing, about twenty miles this side of Champion.

Other Towns in Danger.

Ironwood, Mich., Aug. 26.—Forest fires raged around Ironwood and Hurley all day Tuesday and a southwest gale was blowing since 9 o'clock in the morning. Property on the outskirts of the city was damaged to a considerable extent. The fire departments and volunteers of both towns did all in their power to check the conflagration, with poor results. A dense smoke completely enveloped the city, making traffic slow and unsafe.

SENATE MAY OPPOSE FRANCIS

New Secretary of the Interior Excites the Wrath of Silverites.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Ex-Governor David R. Francis of Missouri is expected to assume charge of the interior department as secretary next Tuesday. There is some talk that the senate will resist the confirmation of Mr. Francis. His selection to succeed Mr. Smith places him unmistakably in opposition to Bryan and Sewall, insures an effective anti-Bryan democratic organization in Missouri and irritates the silver men beyond measure. It is therefore anticipated that the silver men in the senate, no matter what the result of the November election, may try to get their revenge by the rejection of the nomination.

Suffan Yields to the Powers.

Constantinople, Aug. 26.—The Turkish government has definitely accepted, with a few modifications, the proposals of the powers for the future government of Crete.

GEN. BLACK NAMED BY THE GOLD MEN

ILLINOIS DEMOCRATS CHOSE THIRD TICKET.

Now They Will Proceed To Make It Very Warm For John Popocrat At-geld—Massachusetts Gold Men Meet—Work of Friends of the Yellow Metal Elsewhere.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—The gold democratic convention Tuesday failed to endorse a candidate for the presidential nomination. The state ticket is as follows:

For Governor—John C. Black.
For Lieutenant-Governor—Chester A. Babcock.
For Secretary of State—Charles S. Wiley.
For Auditor of Public Accounts—F. E. W. Brink.
For State Treasurer—Edward Ridgeley.

For Attorney-General—William S. Forman.
For Trustees of the State University—S. H. Busey, Charles E. Babcock, August Niehaus.

For Electors-at-Large—Edward C. Hegeler, Rudolph Brand.
For Delegates-at-Large to the Indianapolis Convention—John M. Palmer, John C. Black, William S. Forman, John P. Hopkins, Ben T. Cable, Henry S. Robbins, Roger C. Sullivan, Charles A. Ewing.

The platform declares for a gold standard, opposes the free coinage of silver, demands that all treasury notes be canceled, and favors a tariff for revenue only. The national convention of the party is denounced, Cleveland's administration indorsed, and the independence of the supreme court insisted upon. No mention is made of Gov. Altgeld's administration.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS.

Two Ballots Taken for Governor Without Result—The Platform.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 26.—The state republican convention to nominate candidates for governor and lieutenant-governor met here Tuesday. Benjamin O'Dell, in the absence of State Chairman Hackett, called the convention to order, and Bishop Newman offered prayer. Congressman Frank Black was selected to be temporary chairman. He delivered a lengthy address, in which he discussed the financial issue and criticized the democratic platform. For governor the names of Gen. John Palmer, the present secretary of state; Col. Archibald Baxter of Chemung, Congressman Frank S. Black of Rensselaer, Comptroller James A. Roberts of Erie and James W. Wadsworth of Genesee, George W. Aldridge, Hamilton Flisk, and Charles T. Saxton were presented. Two ballots were taken, without result, and the convention then adjourned until this morning at 11 o'clock.

The platform approves the work of the last legislature, declares the Raines law the most effective law with regard to the liquor traffic that was ever enacted by an American state. It has reduced the number of saloons, taken saloons out of politics, turned into the treasury more than ten millions of dollars and benefited the cause of morality. Gov. Morton's administration is commended. The financial plank is similar to that of the national platform.

Thomas C. Platt refused positively to permit the use of his name in connection with the gubernatorial nomination, and said he would not accept if nominated.

Massachusetts Gold Meeting.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 26.—The convention of gold-standard democrats of Massachusetts to adopt a platform and elect delegates to the Indianapolis convention was called to order Tuesday by ex-Mayor Frederick O. Prince. J. Russell Reed was made temporary chairman. Committees were appointed on permanent organization, on resolutions and on names of delegates to the Indianapolis convention.

Maine Republicans Rally.

WIFE-MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Terrible Deed of Charles Church, a Michigan Banker.

Lowell, Mich., Aug. 26.—Charles Church, junior member of the private banking house of C. J. Church & Co., shot and fatally wounded his wife and then committed suicide Tuesday. The bank closed its doors Monday, giving as a reason that it was unable to realize upon its assets. Tuesday Deputy Sheriff Cowan called at the younger Church's house to serve a writ of attachment. When Church saw him he locked the door and immediately afterward three pistol shots were heard. The door was broken in and Mr. and Mrs. Church were found lying on the floor, the former dead and the latter mortally wounded. The elder Church has disappeared.

A QUIET WEDDING.

Gertrude Vanderbilt and Harry Payne Whitney United at Newport.

Newport, Aug. 26.—A staff of New York florists and decorators were at work all night adorning "The Breakers" for the wedding of Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt and Harry Payne Whitney, which took place at noon Tuesday. Mr. Vanderbilt, though still weak, insisted upon giving his daughter away. Despite the myriad of rumors to the contrary, there has been no apparent reconciliation between Cornelius Vanderbilt and his son. The latter and his bride were not invited to the wedding. The ceremony was simple. It was an ideal day.

IN DAUNTLESS MOOD.

Watson Plans an Invasion of the Land of the Enemy.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Candidate "Tom" Watson's invasion of the west has been postponed for a week or two. Chairman Butler of the Populist committee said that the itinerary had not been completed, but that it was likely Watson would spend more time in Georgia than had been at first proposed.

This trip of Watson through the western country is somewhat in the nature of Bryan's visit to the east; it is an invasion of the enemy's country. The idea belongs to Chairman Butler and Mr. Watson, and their purpose undoubtedly is to create a sentiment for the Georgia tail of the Bryan ticket that will compel a fusion in western states by which the populist candidate for vice-president will be recognized. Chairman Butler said that his party did not propose to accept any such fusions as had been arranged in Nebraska. They want Mr. Watson recognized, or else they will insist on putting up an electoral ticket of their own. They do not believe in the plan of dividing the electoral votes between Watson and Sewall.

Full State Ticket in Texas.

Waco, Tex., Aug. 26.—Several hundred delegates are in attendance upon the state gold convention here. The prospects are that in addition to selecting delegates to Indianapolis a full state ticket will be put out and a straight fight made.

LEAGUE IN SESSION; MUCH WORK DONE

THE REPUBLICANS GATHER IN FORCE IN MILWAUKEE.

Speeches Are Made by Several Noted Men, and All Were Enthusiastically Received by the Audience—Gordon's Election Said To Be Sure—Gold Democrats' Plans.

Milwaukee, Aug. 25.—The delegations to the Republican National League convention were slow in assembling at the exposition hall on Tuesday, and it was nearly noon before the president called the convention to order. Samuel A. Harper, president of the Wisconsin State League of Republican Clubs, was then introduced and was greeted by the Wisconsin university yell from the Wisconsin delegation. He made a speech of welcome on behalf of the Wisconsin State League. At the close of Mr. Harper's speech President McAlpin presented Captain I. M. Bean of Milwaukee, who welcomed the delegates on behalf of the general committee.

General McAlpin introduced D. D. Woodmansee of Ohio to respond to the addresses of welcome. After him President McAlpin arose and delivered his annual address.

E. A. Cummings of Iowa delivered an address, in which he pictured prosperity under protection and the evils which would follow the adoption of the free coinage of silver. He denounced the declaration of the Chicago convention referring to the supreme court.

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster spoke for half an hour. Congressman McCleary of Minnesota devoted himself to the financial issue. He claimed that free coinage of silver was something which this country could not maintain, as it was an impossibility to float gold and silver coined for private account and to maintain their parity. The convention adjourned to meet again this morning.

The election of Charles U. Gordon of Chicago as president is generally regarded as certain.

MAY NOT NAME STATE TICKET.

Wisconsin Gold Democrats Likely to Indorse Bragg.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 26.—The democratic gold convention assembled in the Pabst theater this afternoon. The general idea seems to be in favor of leaving the question of nominating state and county tickets to the committee that will be named to conduct the campaign in Wisconsin on national issues. The gold democrats do not consider that questions of national finance ought to divide people who want to change the method of managing the affairs of the state.

A resolution indorsing Bragg for the presidential nomination to the convention at Indianapolis is to be introduced and is certain to stir up a great deal of enthusiasm. General Bragg would prefer to let some younger man carry off the honors at Indianapolis, being content to fight as a private in the ranks, but his enthusiastic admirers think otherwise.

John T. Kingston will offer a resolution indorsing Bragg for president. Kingston is the law partner of E. J. Dockery, who led the ght for the Wisconsin silver men in the Chicago convention. Gen. Bragg wrote the platform last night. It contains a strong declaration for the gold standard, denounces free silver and indorses the administration of Cleveland. Vilas is slated for a speech today, which it is expected will be the effort of his life on the financial question.

CLEANED AT HEADQUARTERS.

Silver Democrats to Open Their Campaign All Along the Line Next Week.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—The democratic national committee will endeavor to get the guns of free silver oratory trained on the country some time next week. William E. Burns and James Hogan, directors of the American Railway union, had a long conference with Chairman Jones yesterday afternoon. They told him that the union directory would hold a meeting early in September and make plans for reaching workingmen throughout the country in the interests of Bryan and free silver. Mr. Burns offered to help out the national committee if it needed speakers.

Republican national headquarters were quiet yesterday, the interest having been transferred to Milwaukee. W. H. Hahn, chairman of the speakers' bureau, has made a number of important assignments of speakers. H. Clay Evans will speak in Chicago on Sept. 5 at the Cook County Marching club's affair and after will deliver four addresses in the state, wherever Chairman Hitch needs him. Roswell G. Horr will have eight speeches in this state before Sept. 15. Senator Thurston will speak in Illinois on the 16th and 19th, in Ohio on the 21st, in Michigan on the 23d and 25th, in Nebraska on the 28th, in Des Moines on the 30th and in Kansas City Oct. 2. The Hon. Robert P. Kennedy, ex-congressman and ex-lieutenant-governor of Ohio, will be in Chicago Sept. 5 and through the state until Sept. 16.

HOME FORUM PICNIC HELD AT BELOIT

ROCK COUNTY LODGES GATHER AT THE LINE CITY.

Gathering Is the First One Held Under the Auspices of the New Association—Afton Popocratic Club Declares For Free Silver—Other News of the County.

Beloit, Aug. 26.—The first picnic of the members of the Home Forum, in Rock county, modeled after the annual gathering of the Modern Woodmen of America, was held in this city today. The attendance was large, and the day was very profitably spent. Dinner was served from 11:30 to 3 p. m., and all the delicacies of the sea on were served, the spread being in charge of the ladies. Dr. P. L. McKinnin and D. S. J. Caswell of Rockford, spoke, and Mayor Smith welcomed the visitors to the Line City. Music was furnished by the Beloit City band, and the Line City Quartette sang.

The gathering was the first one held by the new association.

The plan has been talked of by Beloit Forumites for some time and with a view of putting such plan in effect, the two Beloit Forums sent out invitations to the various Forums, within a radius of forty miles, calling a delegate convention. The result was the organization of the association, with these officers:

President—V. S. Davis.
Vice President—B. A. Oliver.
Secretary—Mrs. Whetstone.
Dr. Caswell is the grand secretary of the order. He spoke on the growth of the order and the desirability of having a picnic. He said it would "boom" the order and give the companions an opportunity to become acquainted. The Forum is growing remarkably, and it should be kept growing.

AFTON POPOCRATS FOR SILVER

They Name Their Club After the Nebraska Man—Other News

Afton, Aug. 25.—All doubt as to whether the democratic club, which was organized in this town two weeks ago, is really for free silver or not, was dissipated at the last meeting of that organization, held on Monday evening when the name of the 16 to 1 candidate was adopted. The meeting of the club also took the form of democratic caucus, delegates being selected to represent the town of Rock in the various democratic conventions which may be held as follows: George Blunk, George S. Otis, Joseph Williams and James McCovey. The next meeting of the "Bryan club" will meet Monday evening, Aug. 31, at which time Editor Mettsker, of the Beloit News is expected to give a talk in which shall be embodied the new financial ideas of democracy. The Fairchild Republican club holds its regular business meeting next Friday evening, and several items of importance will come up for consideration. All members of the club should endeavor to be present. J. B. Humphrey and Charles Rice went up to Footville last Friday to witness the field contest between the Deering and McCormick corn harvesters, and as a result of their investigations entered into negotiations for one of the former. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Van Slyke at the residence of the young mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Tolles, in the town of Beloit, last Sunday afternoon. Mother and son are doing well. C. H. Gilbert of Elkhorn, made a short visit with Afton friends the fore part of the week. Miss Mabel E. Libbey of Hebron, Ill., is the guest of friends in this vicinity. Rain interfered with the Woodman ball game last Saturday afternoon, and the game was called in the fourth inning with the score standing 15 to 11 in favor of the unmarried men. The boys will cross bats again at a future date, plans for which will be matured at an adjourned meeting of Afton Camp to be held next Saturday evening. There was a good attendance at the Y. P. S. C. E. social held at the church last Friday evening. The program rendered by Pastor Mayhew's class in elocution was a creditable one. David McNaught of Chicago, is spending a few days with friends here. F. P. Starr, Peter Drafiak, J. B. Humphrey, J. F. Bolte, F. R. Eldredge, and U. G. Waite were at the Afton contingent who heard A. C. Rankin at Beloit last Wednesday evening. Mrs. C. F. Waite is on the sick list.

GOSSIP FROM THE GROVE.

Young People's Society Make Plans for a Social—Other News Notes.

Emerald Grove, Aug. 25.—T. C. Duncan of Chicago, is spending the week with relatives on the prairie. On Friday evening of this week, Aug. 28, the Young People's society will serve ice cream with peaches at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett N. Ranson. A special invitation is extended to neighboring societies. Ladies kindly remember the cakes. A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coulter and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Ranson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dean and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones spent Thursday and Friday at Lakes Delavan and Geneva. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ranson entertained friends from Milwaukee last week. Rev. and Mrs. Hammond are enjoying a vacation in the northern portion of the state among relatives. They are expected home next week. One of the substantial young men of Bradford will become a benedict before the week is over, providing what people say is true. The tobacco crop is mostly in the shed. The growers in this vicinity were very fortunate in not having the crop hail cut. The yield will be a heavy one per acre this year. Gillies & Jones can supply you with fruit jars and jelly tumblers at very low prices. A few pieces of corn is ready for cutting up and a few are about to begin the work. E. L. Brown, U. S., of Janesville was in this neighborhood last week. Buffalo Bill will draw a bushel or two half dollars from Bradford on Thursday, notwithstanding the low price of produce. Miss Jennie Harvey, of Harvey & Reader, Delavan, is making her annual visit among friends on the prairie.

Rock River Gossip.

Rock River, Aug. 25.—The box social at Harry Green's last Thursday evening was quite well attended and a pleasant time was had by all. The Misses Katie and Kittle Rose visited relatives at Whitewater last Thursday and Friday. The River school began last Monday with Miss Agnes Stockman as teacher. Miss Kate Bingham, of Koshkonong, visited with her sister, Mrs. Thorpe, the past week. Jay Humphrey, of Albion, visited at Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Gray's the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Anson Bliven and family, of Edgerton, visited here the last of the week. A mistake was made in the items last week. It should have read George Jones, of Lorimer, Iowa, instead of George Jones. Several from this place attended the meeting at the Burdick school house, in Lima, Sunday evening. Miss Lola Loupe, of Spencer, Iowa, who has been visiting relatives here for several weeks, returned to her home Friday. The Messrs. McCartney, of Albion, and Babcock and Loofboro, of Milton, attended the Christian Endeavor meeting here last Sabbath evening. Miss Gertie Smith, of Albion, spent the week with S. J. Corliss and other relatives here. The Misses Kittle and Jennie Rose began their schools at Mount Zion and Harmony, last Monday.

BUFFALO BILL'S BIG FREE LIST

214 Free Tickets Have Been Given Out in This City

Two hundred and fourteen people in the city of Janesville will see the Buffalo Bill show tomorrow free of charge. This number is in addition to an equally large number in the county outside of this city. Such is the report made by Agents B. J. Conn and J. F. McCrone. The greater part of these free tickets have been given to the local merchants for the use of their windows for advertising space, and for bill board room.

"We would have been glad to have given away 500 tickets in this city for window space alone," remarked Mr. Conn "but we got all we could. However, 214 people will hardly be noticed in the crowd tomorrow."

SHOW FISH AT THE COUNTY FAIR.

V. Moag Passes Through Janesville Enroute For the Darlington Show.

Exhibiting fish from the State Fisheries at the county fair, is rather a new venture, but such is a plan that is now being successfully carried out. V. Moag arrived in the city yesterday with a tank containing fourteen specimens of trout, the largest one weighing about twelve pounds. They are on their way to the Darlington Fair where they will be placed on exhibition in a special built fountain.

SHARON MEN BROKE THEIR AGREEMENT

YESTERDAY'S GAME WAS ONLY AN EXHIBITION.

Understanding Was That No "Imported" Players Should Be Allowed in the Game. But the Sharonites "Spring" Three Leaguers—Edgerton's Nine Unchanged.

Sharon's nine won the game at Athletic Park yesterday, defeating the Edgerton nine by a score of 8 to 7.

The game was played under protest, however, and had no bearing on the $500 purse competition, until last night, when the management agreed to "let the game stand," and allow today's game to settle the matter of supremacy.

When Sharon sent out the challenge that resulted in arranging the series of games here, the document, which was published in the Milwaukee Sentinel, The Gazette, and other papers, provided expressly that the teams should be composed of the same men as had met on a previous occasion. This fact was agreed upon and was one of the conditions upon which Sharon's challenge was issued, and also one of the conditions upon which it was accepted by Edgerton.

Manager Henry Johnson, of the Edgerton team, kept his part of the agreement, and his nine was made up of the same men that met on the prior occasion. Naturally he expected that Sharon would also comply with the terms of Sharon's own def. But Sharon didn't. When the two teams met yesterday afternoon there was a row. The Sharon teams had been reinforced by several new players.

Edgerton Makes Protest.

Underwood, the crack pitcher of the Rockford league team was in left field for Sharon; Letzman, a Chicago pitcher, was in the box and Newman, an "importer" now of the Evansville team, was in center field. Hanford, who caught for Sharon in the first game, was on third; Left Fielder Ward was behind the bat, while Busber, Clark, Wilcox and Baldwin, who played in the first game, had given way to the three "imported men" and substitute Hermel. The make up of the Edgerton team had not been changed. Substitute Smith was in the pitcher's box, while Pitcher Siles was acting as substitute. Otherwise the team and the positions of the men were the same as the day before.

Edgerton had kept faith; Sharon had not.

Manager Johnson, of the Edgerton team, refused to let his men play as the agreement had been violated, and the wrangle lasted some time. The audience insisted on seeing a ball game, so finally the two teams agreed to play an exhibition game to satisfy the public. All ticket buyers were told that they could get their money back if they wished, but they wanted a "ball game," not their quarters, and howled for the game to begin. The announcement was then made that the game would be an exhibition only, and Umpire Karel walked into the field. Sharon went to bat, and pounded Pitcher Smith heavily making six runs in the first inning. Edgerton was shut out.

McGintley's Good Work.

As the restriction in regard to players had been removed, Edgerton then put Will McGintley in the box. Only two runs were made in the next seven innings, McGintley playing good ball, and getting scientific support. Sharon's imported pitcher also put up a good game, although in the third inning Cassabone and R. Warner hit him for home runs, thus allowing four Edgerton men to score. Catcher Ward, of the Sharon nine, made a home run in the eighth inning, winning the game for his team. The score:

Sharon.....	6	0	0	1	0	0	1	8
Edgerton.....	0	2	4	1	0	0	0	7

Position. Sharon
Catcher.....Ward
Pitcher.....McGintley
First.....Letzman
Second.....Holland
Third.....Morrissey
Left.....Downs
Right.....Roesler
Ward.....Watson
Substitute.....Watson

Neither Roesler nor Hermel were members of the Sharon team, but Edgerton allowed them to play in both games, although they were not bound to do so. Thus Sharon changed five players in the two games already played.

BASE BALL RECEIPTS LESSENED

Fourteen Young Men Took Advantage of the Management Yesterday.

Fourteen young men made twenty-five cents each at Athletic Park yesterday. When Manager Rogers announced that the game would be an exhibition, in place of one of the regular series, he announced that those wishing their money back, could have it. All kept their seats with the exception of these young men, who fled out, each receiving his quarter. The whole party, it is said, had gained admittance by climbing over the fence, and after receiving a quarter each, returned via the same route.

H. I. PATTISON MEETS B. F. PIXLEY

Two Former Janesville Men Talk Over Old Times at St. Joe, Mich.

Evansville, Ill., Aug. 25.—EDITOR GAZETTE:—I left Chicago May 17, by boat, across the lake to St. Joseph, Mich., intending to return the same evening, after filling up with peaches and cream. I went up to the Whitcomb Hotel, and there met F. S. Pixley, who is in the real estate and insurance business. He is a son of B. F. Pixley, who went to your city in 1843, and will be remembered by a number of friends in Janesville. The son drove me to his father's home, only about one-half mile, right in the city, and a delightful home they have. I met Mr. and Mrs. Pixley and spent two or three days with them; they have four children—two sons and two daughters, all doing well. They entertain as of old, which a number of their Janesville friends can testify to. The latch string is always out for their friends. They appeared to me no older than twenty-five years ago; have been in St. Joe twenty-five years. Mr. Pixley is eighty years old. They have ten acres in all kinds of fruit and the trees are loaded down under their load. We talked of every body in your city we could think of dead or alive. Long may they live. Mr. Pixley is an old style democrat but can't go the silver question. McKinley will get there.

Yours, H. E. PATTISON.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

GOLDIN AND CODY
TO MEET TOMORROWTHEY FOUGHT FOR UNCLE SAM
TOGETHER.

Both Were in the United States Service Against the Indians—The Great Wild West Show To Be Here, and Will Exhibit on the Fair Grounds.

The great Wild West show, and the great Colonel Cody—Buffalo Bill if you please—will be in Janesville tomorrow and will show on the fair grounds.

To one man in Janesville, the coming of the show man means more than the mere amusement it affords. To Colonel T. W. Goldin, it means that old comrades in arms shall meet. Colonel Cody was a government scout when Colonel Goldin was a sergeant in the United States army, and the two men served together in the Indian campaigns in the west. Doubtless when they meet their visit will be a pleasant one.

But as to Bill's show.

There seldom occurs an opportunity to make an announcement of so important an event in the amusement world as is conveyed in the fact that after an absence of more than eight years, Colonel Cody and his "Wild West" are to appear upon the scene. That interval has been filled in by the events of a career that reads like a romance. In that time the Wild West has many times crossed the Atlantic, and has campaigned in every country in Europe. Colonel Cody has led his Indians and cowboys to the peaceful but effectual conquest of every capital in the world. The warriors, white and red, have followed a new trail, and one which has ever led to glory and success.

Went Across The Sea.

It led across the mighty ocean into Albion's capital, and at the great jubilee of Victoria the red man and his conqueror were in line, even as Columbus led his red brothers in the Jubilee of Ferdinand and Isabella, when they gave thanks for the discovery of the new world. The new trail carried them to the gates of the Parisian celebration of Art and Science in 1889, and it led them along the footprints of Napoleon over the Alps and Pyrenees, and into the sacred precincts of historic Rome, where they camped under the classic shadows of the Colosseum and the Parthenon. Onward still, along the banks of the Elbe and the Danube, beside the waters of the Adriatic, into the lagoons that idle among the palaces of the Doges, and still onward, through the pleasant valley of the Rhine, and to the windmills and dykes of Holland. Nor did this marvelous trail end until it reached the great Columbian celebration in Chicago, where they sat in the door way—"the key to all." Now home again, the stars and stripes that floated over their heads during all those long years on foreign shores, and once kissed by the breezes of their native land, and floated over the most extensive and colossal enterprise ever conceived or executed.

Travel On Two Trains.

An army of men and horses, carried in two great railway trains, a commissary department like that of an army, a portable grand stand that will seat 20,000 persons, and the largest movable electric light plant ever constructed to light this peripatetic city.

And added to this are the great pictures of vivid realism which portray the lives and perils of the men who bore the brunt of the great struggle which has ended by the civilizing of this vast continent.

Driven backward, backward, and stricken down, the buffalo has vanished, and the Indian, as a nation, is reduced to a mere handful, rapidly melting away and being absorbed into the body politic. In a few years the last actors in that great drama will have passed from the scene forever. But here and now are seen these early Americans in their daily lives, their labors, pleasures, and their warfare, and also the men who drove them back into the fastness of the center of the continent. The scout, the pioneer, the trapper, the pony express driver, the stage driver, all play their parts in this great historical drama.

Only by a most fortuitous chain of events could this aggregation have ever been gotten together. In the nature of things it can never be duplicated.

The parade will occur at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Home Seekers' Excursions.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway will sell home seekers' round trip excursion tickets to points on its own lines in Iowa, the Dakotas, northern Minnesota and northern Wisconsin. Also, to points on the other railways south, southwest, west and north, crossing several states and territories, at half fare plus $2. Limited to twenty-one days. Date of sale, August 4, 18; September 1, 15 and 29; October 6 and 20.

It doesn't matter much whether sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and constipation are caused by neglect or unfavorable circumstances; DeWitt's Little Early Risers will speedily cure them all. C. D. Stevens.

SOUND MONEY AND SILVER BOOKS

Both Freely Furnished By a Western Railroad to Its Employees

The following circular has been mailed by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company to its employees:

To All Employees of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company—The deep interest that is manifested by all classes of people throughout the United States in the present political campaign is due to the fact that upon the decision of the voters at the polls in November next will depend the future prosperity and happiness of millions of wage-workers throughout the land.

The advocates of the cause of free silver claim that the enactment of laws which shall declare that one ounce of silver shall hereafter possess a value of $1.29, and that the holder of silver may have it coined, free of cost, at any United States mint, and that the resulting coins may be used in payment of all debts, excepting those, of course, in which it is provided that payment shall be made in gold, will bring prosperity and plenty to all.

The advocates of the gold standard claim that legislation or legal enactment cannot increase the value of 53 cents' worth of silver to $1 or increase the value of silver bullion from 67 cents to $1.29 per ounce; that the free coinage of silver upon this basis will temporarily and for a short time increase the value of gold, and in accordance with custom, have promised to pay their obligations with gold.

This question is one of great importance to every railroad corporation in the United States, and it follows, as a matter of course, that it is equally important to the employees of such railroads, for their fortunes must vary with those of the railroad upon which they depend for a money income given in exchange for their labor.

It is not the intention or purpose of the management to require, or even to request, the employees to act or to vote upon this or any other question otherwise than in accordance with the dictates of their own judgment as to the course which will best promote their individual interests, and those of the community in which they live. As the matter is one of such vital importance to them, as well as to this company, it seems desirable that it should be carefully considered during the time between now and next November, and you are earnestly requested to study the question with all the care that its great importance merits. It is certainly impracticable to consider any question fairly without looking at both sides. Men believing in the gold standard should consider the arguments of those who advocate the free coinage of silver, and men who believe that the free coinage of silver will restore prosperity to take the place of the period of depression and care which has prevailed during the past four years, should consider the claims and arguments of those who favor a gold standard.

The management proposes to furnish to such of its employees as may desire to study this question, and who, because of their location, are prevented from having free access to the current publications upon the topics herein referred to, all of the standard publications upon both or either side, issued by the gold or the silver party, or by both. This proposition is made in entire good faith, and it is hoped that it will be generally accepted. An endeavor will be made to supply information called for fully and promptly. Yours very truly,

J. W. KENDRICK, General Manager.

SCARE AT CLINTON
HAS ABOUT ABATEDSEVERAL PEOPLE DIE, BUT NOT OF CONTAGION.

An Unknown Sick Man Passes Away at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Babcock, at Which Place He Had Called and Asked for Help.

Clinton, Aug. 26.—The Banner says: "We have several deaths to record as having occurred during the week just passed, but as no two have been at all alike, it cannot be ascribed to contagion. The child of Mr. Thorson, saloon keeper, was living near the street upon which have occurred several deaths, but its parents fearing for its health, sent it out in the country, where it ate too heartily of green apples, and died of inflammation of the bowels. The man at Mr. Babcock's, died of erysipelas. Mrs. Shattuck's death occurred in Chicago. The little babe at Truer Johnson's died of cholera infantum. Mr. Groshong's little boy, alone had throat trouble.

No new cases of throat trouble have developed of late, except that of Bernie Baldwin and Dr. Montgomery reports both the boys now gaining. The sympathies of the people are with this family and Mr. Groshong's especially, as they have been so long shut in with the sick children. The quarantine is off at the Johnsons, Miss Johnson having returned to her home in the country. The diphtheria scare, which some of our neighboring towns have so grossly exaggerated has about abated, and people will feel more secure as the cool weather approaches. But the occupants of the stores and offices upon Main street should be very diligent during the next six weeks in keeping the back alleys free from decaying matter. A little healthy rebuke in the way of a fine, for leaving in the alleys or upon our streets any decaying substances, from our health board, or committee on streets and alleys, will do more towards guarding the health of our citizens than all the pills and plasters known to the medical fraternity, however, to these remedies.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Babcock have had a trying ordeal in caring for the sick man who called at their home some weeks since, asking an opportunity to work for his board, but who soon sickened and died, requiring some one's constant attention until his suffering body was consigned to the grave.

The memorial service for the late Mr. Mayberry will be held at the Congregational church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. William Moore and the Hon. S. S. Jones. The arrangements will be in charge of the Modern Woodmen, who will attend in a body.

Extremely Low Rates to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

On account of the G. A. R. National Encampment, which opens at St. Paul, September 1, 1896, the North-Western Line, will sell excursion tickets to St. Paul or Minneapolis and return at exceedingly low rates. For full particulars call on agents of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway.

Many a day's work is lost by sick headache, caused by indigestion and stomach troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the most effective pill for overcoming such difficulties. C. D. Stevens.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1544—Battle of Trecy, France, in which cannon were first used; Edward III defeated the French.
1788—Elizabeth Chudleigh, duchess of Kingston, adventuress and bigamist, died in France after a trial which excited all the sympathy of England.
1813—Charles Theodore Koerner, the German martial artist, was killed; BORICELIA THAXTER 1791. Koerner fell in an engagement with superior numbers near a bucket in the neighborhood of Rosenberg. He had advanced in pursuit of the flying foe far beyond his comrades. They buried him under an old oak on the site of the battle and carved his name on the trunk. The "Song of the Hero" poem, which is among Koerner's best known pieces, was written in a pocket memorandum book two hours before he was killed and was read to a comrade just as the signal was given to go into action. His "Battle Hymn" has become popular in America through many translations.
1819—Prince Albert, Francis Augustus Charles Emmanuel of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, husband of Queen Victoria, born in the castle of Rosenau; died 1861.
1850—Louis Philippe, ex-king of France, died at Claremont, England; born 1773.
1871—Charles Scribner, founder of the New York publishing house bearing his name and of the original Scribner Magazine, afterward changed to The Century, died in Switzerland; born 1821.
1894—Celia Loughton Thaxter, American poet, died at the Isle of Shoals; born 1836. The new tariff bill became a law without the president's approval.

A CURE FOR HARD TIMES.

It is one of the weaknesses of the American people that they turn to the law-making power for relief from every hardship. The belief that legislation can create prosperity results logically from the tendency and people are asked to believe without question that good times can be restored merely by changing the size of the dollar by which the value of their labor and its products is measured.

Mr. Bryan pictures mints running night and day, receiving into the silver that can be mined and storing it in the form of legal tender dollars. Against this fallacy the deductions of experience and the plain traditions of every-day business life rise up in protest. The business community believes with the republican party that it is better to open the mills than to open the mints. The one sure cure for hard times is hard work. Whenever the farmers of a given neighborhood become sufficiently prosperous to warrant the starting of a bank in their community, for example, the bank will inevitably appear. But it will represent their thrift rather than create it. It will be the result, rather than the cause, of their success. It would not add a farthing to the value of their crops. It will not increase by a single acre the area of their tillable lands or multiply by the smallest fraction the grain yield of their soil.

It would be exactly the same in the case of free coinage. To open the mints to the unlimited production of silver dollars would not add a single penny to the wealth of the country. It would not create a demand for one day more of labor than the country requires at present. It would not increase the volume of food supplies, it would not make beef more abundant, pork fatter, or wool longer, on the back of the American sheep. These conditions are beyond the control of legislation, but not an inch farther beyond it than the object which the free coinage advocates believe they can accomplish by the same power.

BABBITT IS A GOOD REINSMAN.

A Runaway Makes Him the "Logical Candidate" For the Popocrats.

If anyone thinks that the Hon. Clinton Babbitt, of Beloit, aspirant for the popocratic nomination for Governor, cannot "ride two horses at once," they should have seen the fracas that he went through this morning.

Mr. Babbitt drove up from the Lize City to attend the popocratic convention. Incidentally he showed pedestrians along West Milwaukee street that he was a horseman of the Buffalo Bill order. As Mr. Babbitt drove up River street with a prancing team of bay horses—that were as near a gold color as he could get—along came an electric car—a regular gold bug carresplendent with yellow paint. The two free silver beasts took one look at the gold bug chariot, and then they bolted, throwing the pole over their backs and mixing the harness as completely as did the delegates at the recent convention under the auspices of the bicycle sports et. al. Good horsemanship, and the assistance of interested lookers on, soon righted matters, and an accident was averted. It will take some one who is good at hanging on to ride the popocratic goose-donkey this fall, so today's accident would seem to make the Hon. Clinton the "logical candidate."

HE CARRIED A BLAZING STOVE

And George Hurd Is Now Nursing His Blistered Hands.

George Hurd is nursing a burned and blistered hand, as the result of carrying a blazing gasoline stove. Mr. Hurd resides on the second floor of the Ogden block, on East Milwaukee street, and after lighting the stove, it was found that the can was leaking. Before the flame could be extinguished, the stove was enveloped in flames, but Mr. Hurd seized the blazing stove and carried it from the building, thus avoiding a serious fire.

JOINED IN CUPID'S LINKS

Adams—Jones.

A quiet, yet very happy wedding was solemnized at the State School for the Blind, at 10 o'clock this morning, when Margaret E. Jones and Charles H. Adams were united in the holy bonds of wedlock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Hodge of the Baptist church, and was witnessed by relatives and a little company of intimate friends. Plants and flowers transformed the spacious parlors and halls, giving to the place a fairy land appearance, and when to the soft strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bride and groom elect took their places in an archway of evergreen and blossoms, the scene was very impressive.

While the words were spoken that formed the compact of a new home, Mrs. J. P. Houston of Chicago, who presided at the piano, played the Midsummer Night's Dream.

The bride was attired in muslin de soire, over Valenciennes lace, with pearls.

Heartly congratulations and well wishes followed the ceremony, and the numerous and beautiful presents indicated the love and friendship that crowned the girlhood of Margaret Jones, and goes out with her into the new and happy life of Mrs. Adams.

At 10:30 a dainty breakfast was served in the assembly room, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Mr. Shurtleff, the popular caterer, was in charge.

At 12:45, Mr. and Mrs. Adams started for Lake Geneva, where they will spend a week, and after visiting at his old home in Sandwich, Ill., and at Oberlin, Ohio, they will go to Albion, Mich., where Mr. Adams occupies the position of musical director in the Conservatory of music of the Albion College. His wife also enters the Conservatory as a teacher. The best wishes and hearty congratulations of many Janesville friends will follow them. Among the guests from abroad were Mrs. and Mrs. H. A. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mosher, Mrs. O. E. Wallace of Sandwich, Ill.; Mrs. J. P. Houston of Chicago, Miss Alice Little of Oberlin, Miss Carrie Bertholet of Dubuque, Iowa; Miss Sarah Evans, West Liberty, Iowa; the Misses Johnson of Stoughton.

Diamond-Barron.

Lewis Diamond, of Elwood, Ind., and Miss Polly Barron, of Janesville, were married at St. Patrick's church, Chicago, by the Rev. Father Burns this afternoon at four o'clock. They were attended by Miss Margaret Dawson, of Janesville, cousin of the bride as bridesmaid and Mark Diamond, of Chicago, brother of the groom, as best man. They left at once for Elwood Ind., where the groom is the manager of the firm of Diamond & McKenzie, boiler manufacturers. The bride is an estimable young lady who has made her home in Janesville all her life and who has a host of friends who will wish her a long and a happy life.

SILVER MEN HAVE ALL THEIR WAY

THE ROCK COUNTY BRYANITES GET MORRIS' SCALP.

Con. Buckley Comes Up From Beloit Expecting To Be Allowed To Talk All He Wants To, But J. L. Mahoney Puts a Brief Affront Upon Him.

The silver men owned the democratic convention this afternoon, and they: Hung Chairman Frank R. Morris' hide on the fence. Instructed the delegates to support William Smith for attorney general. Decided to name a new county committee, the chairman to be elected on Sept. 9. Endorsed the doctrine of sixteen-to-one in all its phases.

"They'll treat me better today," said Clinton Babbitt.

He must have remembered how he and the fourteen Beloit silverites were hooted out of the democratic convention six weeks ago.

It was all free-silver today.

When the chairman named William Smith, R. M. Richmond and Cornelius Buckley as a committee on resolutions somebody yelled:

"Why don't you give one gold democrat a chance?"

"I don't understand that there are any such people," shot back the chairman amid the derisive applause of the crowd.

The convention was organized by naming Albert Broughton of Magnolia, as chairman, P. J. Mout as secretary, and committees as follows:

The Customary Resolutions.

Resolutions—William Smith, Cornelius Buckley, R. M. Richmond.

Credentials—Frank L. Steadwell, Ira Jones, D. Van Wart.

Permanent Organization—William Kilians, John Kildan, J. M. Palmer.

The credential committee encouraged the convention by reporting the most complete representation ever seen in a Rock county democratic convention. The organization committee reported in favor of making the temporary organization permanent and this was done.

William Smith, of the resolutions committee, presented resolutions endorsing Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform, and pledging the hearty support of Rock county democrats. The resolutions also scored Governor Upham and the last legislature for relieving state treasurers of a portion of their burden.

Cruel Handicap of Buckley.

Delegates to the Milwaukee convention were elected after considerable waste of oratory. Delegate Cornelius Buckley, of Beloit, started it by a hot attack on a motion to "lay on the table."

"You can't debate a motion to lay on the table," urged J. L. Mahoney, but the chair was conveniently deaf.

"Well, then, I move that speeches be limited to two hours and a half each," shouted Mahoney amid cheers.

The Delegates Chosen.

The delegates chosen were:

At Large—William Smith and John Winans.

First District—P. J. Mout and William Brinkman.

Second District—R. M. Richmond and John M. Palmer.

Third District—George Helmboldt and Con Buckley.

The delegates were instructed to urge the nomination of William Smith for attorney general, a strong speech being made in his behalf, by J. L. Mahoney.

A grab was made for Chairman Frank R. Morris' scalp by O. W. Metesker, who secured a majority for his motion to appoint a new county committee consisting of a member from each village and ward. This was done in spite of Chairman Morris' objection that the county committee could only be named by the convention that nominated county officers. A majority of the convention thought differently, and Chairman Morris had to sit back and see himself undone, making the sage remark:

"They'll find that the action won't stick."

WANTS TO RUN FOR CONGRESS

Clay W. Metesker, the Beloit Editor Anxious to Follow Babbitt's Example

Clay W. Metesker, the Beloit editor, is after the congressional nomination on the democratic ticket. He remembers that another Beloit democrat was elected congressman once, and he has the cheering knowledge that his financial views and those of his distinguished fellow-townsmen are in close accord. There is one difference, however. Mr. Babbitt was once a sound money man. Mr. Metesker insists that for his part he does not remember of ever favoring a dollar that cost more than 53 cents at the utmost.

Editor Metesker was laying wires among the democrats in town today. His chief rival will be Louis G. Bomrich, a rich Kenosha maltster.

EDGERTON CONCEDES THE POINT

Allows Yesterday's Game To Count—To-day's Contest Is Descriptive.

No one can charge the Edgerton base ball club with quibbling. The Edgerton team, last night, decided to overlook Sharon's violation of the agreement as to players, and allow yesterday's game to stand. Today's game was, therefore, the decisive contest, each having won a game. At 4:15 o'clock this afternoon, the score stood 11 to 3 in favor of Edgerton, three innings having been played. The batteries were: Edgerton, Sickles and Sullivan. Sharon, Baldwin, Downs, Underwood and Hanford. The attendance was 1,000, and feeling was high.

Mrs. WM. BARR and daughter, Theresa, Mrs. E. Barr and daughter, Cecelia, Miss Minna Barr, Mrs. S. E. Huntley and Mrs. John Probst and Master Harry Buob went overland to Delavan and Geneva Lake yesterday and returned last night. They report having had a fine time.

On July 19 last, James Clark, Jr., struck Mrs. Lizzie Smith in the face with his fist, blacking both her eyes. Then he left town, but last night he returned, and Chief Acheson arrested him. Judge Phelps fined Clark $15 this morning with the proviso that non-payment meant fifteen days in jail.

DANIEL SKELLY, who has long been connected with the Myers House cigar store, will have charge of a branch of the Chicago fruit house, which will be opened at W. S. Harvey's store, on South Main street, tomorrow morning. A full line of fresh fruits will be carried constantly, the goods coming from Chicago every morning.

THE Rev. John Arnoup, universalist missionary of Iowa, is making a short visit to Wisconsin. He has preached in Racine, Elkhorn, Monroe and other places to appreciative congregations and the pastor and trustee of the Universalist church of Janesville, have tendered him the use of the church for next Sunday. Notice of his subject will be given later.

Silver Dollars.

The intrinsic value of our silver dollars may be less than 53 cents, but it buys $1.50 worth with us just the same. If you don't believe it call in and see the prices at which we are offering lovely fall wraps, both capes and jacket, just exactly the thing for cool autumn evenings. We not only show excellent styles for women and misses, but for children and the very little tots we have such pretty styles in jackets. J. M. Bostwick & Sons.

ARE AFTER BRYAN WITH THEIR VOTE

FIFTY DEMOCRATS SEEKING POPOCRATIC SCALPS.

Delegates Are En Route for Milwaukee—Refuse To Change Their Coats Because the Populists Told Them They Must—Ex-Mayor of Mineral Point Talks.

Fifty men who wanted Bryan's scalp, passed through Janesville today en route for Milwaukee.

They were democrats.

"Not bolters," said one of them, "but democrats—real, genuine dyed-in-the-wool democrats."

The party was made up of delegates to the Milwaukee convention, and was headed by Ex-Mayor N. H. Snow, George Crawford, W. H. Curry, Joseph Ingles, Alfred Jenkin, and Cyrus Lanyon, of Mineral Point; John Clary, Darlington; John Savage, and Samuel Scales, Shullsburg; Thomas Luschinger, Monroe; and Dr. Flower, of Monticello.

Mr. Clary, the Darlington member of the party, is a war horse of democracy having supported the doctrines of that party for fifty-five years. The principles of the party he had been thus connected with for over half a century, were dear to him, and when the populists named their man, and formulated their platform, Mr. Clary repudiated both, because they were not democratic. He is an out and out gold standard advocate and will champion that cause at the Cream City, with all his vigor.

Are "Agin' Bryan.

Ex-Mayor Snow, of Mineral Point, talked freely while waiting for the train for Milwaukee.

"We are opposed to free silver, and we want to down Bryan," he said. "That is not saying that we will vote for McKinley, neither is it saying that we will not vote for McKinley. But we want Bryan's scalp, and we want to see free silver beaten."

"Then you are 'bolters' was suggested.

"No, we are not the bolters," he replied. "We are the Democrats. The other fellows are the 'bolters.' The whole Mineral Point delegation feels as I do. I can speak for them all. We want no Bryanism; neither do we want free silver. We want a good democratic platform, without any 'ifs' and 'ands.' We are going to Milwaukee to see if we can get it."

The other members of the party signified their approval of Mr. Snow's remarks, and all insisted that the country's welfare demanded Bryan's defeat. Several of the members of the party were men well along in years, who had devoted all their political energy to the advancement of the democratic cause, and did not propose to give up their belief "because the populists told them that they must," as one of them expressed it.

DEATH ENDS EARTHLY WOES

Levi Knepper.

Evansville, Aug. 25—The whole city was shocked this morning by the death of Levi Knepper. Mr. Knepper was born in Pennsylvania, Feb. 21, 1829, and came to Wisconsin in the spring of 1848, locating near Beloit. In 1853 he moved to Porter township. About fifteen years ago he moved to this city, and for a time was proprietor of the West End grocery, which he was obliged to sell about a year ago, on account of failing health. The cause of his death was cancer of the stomach. He leaves a wife, whose maiden name was Anna M. Waters, a native of Ohio, to mourn the loss of a kind and devoted husband. The funeral will be held Thursday morning at the Baptist church.

Funeral of G. A. Bowerman.

All that was mortal of Glenn A. Bowerman was laid to rest at Oak Hill cemetery this afternoon, the funeral being held from the home of Horace Herkimer at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Hodge, pastor of the Baptist church, officiated, and the services were largely attended. The pall bearers were members of the old "Janesville Guards," of which company Mr. Bowerman was a member when it was the crack military organization of the northwest. Major M. A. Newman, the former commander of the Guards walked at the head of the casket, and the pall bearers were O. D. Stevens, Dr. Joe Whiting, E. E. Spalding, Dr. James Gibson, H. V. Allen and Frank Strickler.

FORTY CRAZY MAIDS AFTER APPLE THIEF

ATTENDANT'S COOLNESS PREVENTS A TRAGEDY.

Mrs. Louise Hyzer Stood Between Two Score of Insane Women Who Were Out on an Airing, and the Two Young Men Who Were Stealing Fruit.

Mrs. Louise Hyzer, an attendant at the county asylum, stood between two Janesville apple thieves and forty insane women who wanted to teach the boys a lesson yesterday afternoon, and but for her coolness, serious injury would probably have been done to the raiders.

Mrs. Hyzer had the forty women out for an airing, and walked with them, over to the orchard, which is situated opposite the Janesville Grange hall. When they reached the orchard, they saw two young men engaged in picking up the fruit and putting it into bags.

"Leave this orchard," commanded Mrs. Hyzer.

A defiant answer was returned.

"Do you realize what you are doing?" Mrs. Hyzer asked. "Do you not know that all of us are crazy and that you might get hurt?"

The young man's eyes stuck out of his head, but he was still insolent.

The forty crazy women edged up, and began to close in about the apple stealers. Mutterings were heard in the party, and Mrs. Hyzer realized that the situation was becoming serious. Collaring the young man, she announced that they would take him to the asylum, and put him in a straight jacket. The forty crazy women were delighted, and turned toward the building.

"Now you make yourself scarce," commanded Mrs. Hyzer when the coast was clear, and the two young men ran a little faster than they ever ran before. The forty crazy women were disappointed when they found that they had been cheated of their fun, but both Mrs. Hyzer and the boys treasured their freedom. The boys both live here and are well known. It is said that they have taken apples before.

YOURS IN HASTE.

I love that dainty monogram,
With three slim letters interlaced.
Above the notes she used to write,
Signing them ever, "Yours in haste."

The world was young, and so was I.
How sweet to think that in the whirl
She kept one moment all for me,
To glad my heart—my radiant girl

The world is old, and so am I.
And since my love became my wife
It seems to me I've somehow been Too late for everything in life.

With ribbons flying, gowns awry,
With panting breath and boots unlaced,
True to her words of yore, she's been
But now and ever—mine "in haste."
—London Tit-Bits.

QUIVER AVENGED.

The winter's trade was over, and nearly all the Indians had left the vicinity of our little trading post on the Missouri to pass the summer back on the prairie and along the foothills of the mountains. We had shipped all our furs and robes on the last down steamer, and now there was absolutely nothing for us to do but kill time as best we could until another season's trade should begin. Situated as we were some 300 miles from the nearest town, our post was not a very lively place in summer, and our only neighbor was a saloon man who had built a place 50 yards above us. But with him we had little to do. He was a surly, unkempt fellow, and there were generally hanging about his place a set of men who came and went mysteriously, whom we more than suspected were members of a gang of horse thieves and road agents that used to ply their trade along the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers.

My partner had gone east with our shipment of furs to dispose of them and order a fresh stock of goods, and I was alone except for the company of a good father, a broad and liberal minded priest, whom I had persuaded to stay with me until my partner should return. The bishop of the Saskatchewan had sent him south the preceding year to minister to a part of his flock, the plains Crees, who were in our vicinity.

One drowsy afternoon in June the father and I sat out in the shade of the overhanging roof smoking and fanning ourselves, for it was a hot day. In the saloon just above us a poker game was going on, revealed to outsiders by the subdued hum of voices and the ceaseless rattle of chips. As I said, most of the Indians had gone out on the summer's hunt, but two or three families were still with us, and presently a young man named Quiver came along with his wife and sat down by the father in the grateful shade. During many years passed with the Indians on the plains, I think this was the handsomest couple I ever saw. The woman, much lighter colored than many a Spanish woman, had a singularly graceful figure, and her features were well high faultless. Her eyes were exceptionally large and brilliant, full of expression, and were shaded by long, sweeping lashes. Her hair, neatly braided, hung in two massive strands almost to the ground. Quiver would have served an artist for a model of Apollo. What I liked best about him was the broad, high brow and square cut chin, which even in a savage denotes a keen intelligence united with force of character.

This couple, Quiver and his wife, Pai-o-tah, had been married a little more than a year. They were as yet deeply in love with each other as ever. On the hunt or in the camp, working or resting, they were inseparable. Quiver thought there was nothing good enough for his beautiful wife. All the robes he secured, all the beaver and otter he caught, were traded for fine blankets, soft and bright colored dresses, and for jewelry with which to adorn Pai-o-tah. He wanted nothing for himself except a little tobacco and a few cartridges for his rifle. The couple sat with us half an hour or more talking with the father about affairs in their own far northern home.

Riel, he who later created the Canadian rebellion, had lately been among the Indians urging them to return home and wrest their ancestral lands from the redcoated usurpers, and Quiver was anxious to get the father's opinion of the matter. The good man plainly told him that it was a visionary scheme and could not possibly succeed. He explained that the Indians not only would have to fight the Canadians, but that if necessary ships would bring thousands of soldiers from across the salt water, ten white men for every Indian and half breed in the northwest. All this talk of war had little interest for Pai-o-tah, and finally she slipped her hand in Quiver's and coaxed him to go home.

"Happy, innocent children," said the father, as we watched them go up the trail hand in hand. "Not a care or a sorrow to mar their daily lives!"

As they were passing the saloon a big ruffian stepped out of the doorway, aimed his revolver at them and, calling out to some one within, "Bill, see me drop that damned Injun," fired. With a cry of pain poor Quiver fell to the ground, Pai-o-tah dropped her robe and knelt over him, and with a coarse laugh the man who fired the shot turned and went back into the saloon.

The father and I hastened over to the prostrate Indian. He was still conscious, but his face had assumed a yellowish hue, and he said faintly: "I am shot in the back. Have pity and carry me to my lodge." By this time one or two Indians had come over from the camp near by, and together we gently lifted the wounded man, and, carrying him home carefully, laid him on his couch. Sure enough, the bullet had entered his back on the left side and torn its way through the kidneys. There was no hope for him.

Leaving the father to attend the poor fellow and give him and the heart-broken Pai-o-tah such consolation as was in his power, I went back to the post and wrote a note to the commanding officer of a troop of United States cavalry camped some six miles above us, telling him of the cold blooded murder which had been committed and asking him to arrest the murderer. Hastily sealing the message, I slipped quietly around to the Indian camp and gave it to a young man who happened to have his horse staked near by, charging him to go with all haste and deliver the note to the captain. When I returned to the lodge I found Quiver was sinking rapidly. He was suffering intensely, but never complained, and slowly and distinctly instructed his people as to the disposition of his property. Then the good father began to administer the last sacraments, and I sadly left the lodge and went home. In a little while the father joined me.

"He is dead?" I asked.
"Yes."
"And Pai-o-tah?"
"She fainted; the old women are caring for her."

Supper was called, but neither of us cared to eat. We sat in silence a long time, and finally the father said:
"Never, during my long life in this wild and wicked land, have I ever seen or heard of such a dastardly act as that fiend committed this afternoon. Can a man be human, is he born of woman, who will deliberately shoot down a fellow creature in cold blood? And what is to be done? Is there no justice in the land? Can he not be punished for his crime?"

"Wait, father," I replied. "I have sent a note up to the soldier camp informing the captain of the affair. No doubt he will send some men down to arrest the fellow."

Some time after dark my messenger returned and handed me an envelope, the same one in which I had inclosed my note. On the back of it, written in pencil, were the following words:

Outside my jurisdiction. Send to Fort Benson for the sheriff. CAPTAIN

Send 300 miles for the sheriff! And in the meantime the murderer would be far away, perhaps over on the Yellowstone or in Dakota on another horse stealing raid. That night the father and I went to bed with heavy hearts.

Early the next morning we made preparations for burying Quiver. Out of such material as was at hand I made a rude coffin and lined it with soft new blankets. The father made a cover for it of black cloth and, true to his faith, sewed in the center a large white cross. Then down at the lower end of the bottom, beneath the cottonwoods, we dug the grave, and before noon we laid the poor fellow in it. In the afternoon the father and I again sat out in the shade of the house, trying to get a breath of fresh air. The June sun shined fearfully hot in those Missouri river bottoms. But this afternoon there was no smoking or chatting. Each of us was occupied with his own thoughts, and they were sad and oppressive.

There had been high old times in the saloon during the night, a perfect frenzy of drink and carousal, which had lasted far into the morning, and now the ruffians were sleeping off the effects of it. Presently we saw the murderer come out, bareheaded, barefooted and stripped to the waist. He glanced impudently at us, and, going on to the river not many yards away, stooped down and began to bathe his head. As I watched him the father suddenly pressed my arm, and, looking up, I saw Pai-o-tah, rifle in hand, slipping up toward the bath.

"It must not be!" murmured the father. "Vengeance is mine," saith the Lord. "I will repay," and he started to rise.

I grasped his arm and forced him back into his chair.
"You shall not interfere, father," I said in a low voice. "There is something in the same book about 'an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth,' and I held him with a firm grip."

"Don't cry out," I continued, "for the fellow has a pistol in his belt and might kill the woman."

And now Pai-o-tah was but a few yards from the sloping bank of the river. Raising the gun to her shoulder, we heard her call out in a loud, clear voice, "Nap-i-kwan" (white man). As the man kept on bathing, she said again, much more loudly, "Nap-i-kwan!" This time he heard, and, looking over his shoulder, saw her standing there with the rifle pointed at him. Quick as a flash he sprang to his feet, whirled around and pulled his revolver; but, quicker still, Pai-o-tah pulled the trigger, and at the report the desperado threw up his arms, reeled and fell over backward into the river. There was a heavy splash, and then the deep and treacherous current claimed its own. Once, twice, we saw a hand rise above the surface of the water and then slowly disappear and pass out of sight forever. Poor Quiver was avenged.—New York Sun.

Riches Through Economy.

Mme. Bonicant was first a laundress and the daughter-in-law of a laundress who married a hatter at Montargis, in Normandy. She was engaged in the laundering department at the Petit St. Thomas mart and found her opportunity in lot sales of damaged silks and odds and ends of machine-made lace. She used at night to make up what she bought at these sales into cravats, jackets and children's frocks, according to patterns she studied at the Petit St. Thomas. On her way in the morning to her work she sold them in a market. She did so well that she had soon to get help, and then took a poky shop in the Rue du Bac, where the west entrance to the Bon Marche now stands. The rule was cheapness. Nobody was ever taken in. In the tentative struggle she and her husband learned business without heavy risk. She could not be called an old woman when she died. After giving away nearly £3,000,000 in acts of justice, friendship and benevolence, she left a fortune valued at over £7,000,000.

Devotion.

That was a remarkable instance of devotion to which an Italian journal referred some time ago, wherein a husband, on hearing that his wife looked her best in mourning, committed suicide that she might have an opportunity to wear it.—London Queen.

man connected with the profession. He has been counsel in most of the famous cases which have been in the English courts during the past 15 years, but since he has been on the bench he has been in eclipse. He defended Parnell and his associates in that great trial and saved Mrs. Maybrick from the gallows. He was born in Ireland 65 years ago and is in the full glory of his vigorous manhood.

Mr. Bryan's Helpmeet.

Mrs. Bryan, the wife of the Democratic candidate for president, is a studious, intellectual and energetic woman. She is a lawyer and something of an orator and she is a thorough helpmeet to her husband.

Mrs. Bryan's maiden name was Mary E. Baird. Her father was a prosperous merchant of Perry, Ill., and she was given every advantage to develop the unusually fine mind which she early gave evidence of possessing.

She met her husband at college and graduated at the same time he did. They were married and removed to Lincoln, Neb., where they have since lived. Mrs. Bryan swims and rides a bicycle. She is the mother of three children and is very domestic in her tastes.

Then he returned to Ohio and practiced law at Youngstown. He became active in politics there and was elected mayor in 1874. In 1880 he removed to Boston, where he now lives.

dle of two or three acres of velvety lawn. The cottage is of no particular style of architecture and not particularly attractive from the exterior, but cozy and comfortable within. Honeysuckle vines cover a portion of the porch and their delicious fragrance is very grateful at this season. There is none but cedar trees on the place, and the flower beds are numerous and attractive. The Sages lead a very quiet and methodical life at Cedar Croft.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually. Sold by druggists.
